Okay, and the first one is Priscilla Hanford. And I'm going to be somewhat repetitive to what I said at the very first Lefco hearing. At that time, if you recall, I said I could not accept the application as submitted. I would wait and see about the development of conditions, being a fan of the Lappco process, and wanting to echo the commendations to an outstanding staff. And also hello to my former neighbor, Marsha Leach Birch. I was sitting in her attorney today. And I want to say I've read a lot. And I my daughter.

Was laughing, laughing saying, "Mom, you can't stay out of water, can you?" Having served eight years on the Regional Water Quality Control Board and the Water Commission that drafted Chapter 33. I feel very strongly about this issue. I feel very regretful that the issue became caused such polarization. I have worked with environmentalists. I have worked with agriculture. I have great respect on both sides of participants in this process, but I do bewail the fact that it has become so volatile. I stand before you now to say, Having read the conditions and having met personally with staff to further pursue questions of my own, that I stand in support of this formation.

With the conditions as proposed by staff. Thank you very much. And I want to add one thing. : any effectiveness of this move forward depends on opening ourselves to a degree of trust that has been in all too short supply in all our local, national and global situations today. Please open yourselves to trust.
